OUR TOWN

The Fort Worth Star-Telegram is outstripping all big daily Texas newspapers in the fairness of its news policy. Notwithstanding the fact that this great paper is fighting the Ferguson campaign and has left nothing undone to create a most unfavorable estimate of the administration, it is sending a staff correspondent with Jim Ferguson and is reporting his meetings right. The people will not repudiate a press of this kind but the brand of journalism fostered by others is neither fair nor just.

A fair interpretation of a Ferguson meeting is contained in the issue of Wednesday. Jim Ferguson was speaking at Linden. It is true, that is a Ferguson territory. Silliman Evans, correspondent says: "Ferguson took his coat and collar off as he began to speak. Nearly every period of Ferguson's two hour speech was the occasion for uproarious applause. He spoke in a natural amphitheatre and the crowd sat under the protection of the trees. There were no seats, the auditors, at least one third of them women, either sat or stood, and apparently had not tired of the man they have supported consistently in every race he has made since 1914. When he finished his speech the farmers shouted their approval for his slashing attacks on Moody. It was a typical east Texas crowd. Men and women wearing their Sunday best, sat, the men, bearded, under the trees, the latter fanning their companions with their hats. Ferguson was accorded an almost adulatory reception. When the former Governor stood on the rim of the amphitheatre ready to begin his descent to the rostrum whistles crescendoed "There he is" and "here's Governor Jim," men and women arose to give place for him as he walked downward. Cheers broke like a thunderclap and resounded against the hills and to the nearby forests. Aesthetes of the crowd would be difficult because of the area covered and the irregular formation of it. They were seated and standing as close as possible, over a space of at least 40,000 square feet. Ferguson said he estimated one person to each three or at least to each four feet. That would make at least 10,000 people. Linden committeemen asserted it to be by far the biggest gathering for political purposes ever seen in East Texas."

In the same issue of the Houston Post-Dispatch as well as the Chronicle we find no mention of the great demonstration for Governor Jim, the man who has done more for the masses than any man who ever held high office in Texas or any other state.

Politics makes strange companions. This old saying has been quoted many times, but it's truth is apparent. In the 1924 campaign when the Ku Klux question was debated on every stump in Texas, Democrats emerged from three successive campaigns refined as by fire for the principles, new and ancient, of the party. After the desertion of the party ticket by more than 100,000 Democrats who voted for the Klan-Republican, George C. Butte, Democratic leaders felt so much concern for the welfare of the party they declared against the bolter and pledged themselves to protect the ballot against a breach of the pledge. Now they say the Butte supporters who went out from among us to dwell with the enemy, are no worse than those who voted for Pedy against Earl Mayfield. We agree that it is no worse for one Democrat to break a pledge than another, but what about the faithful host of party men and women who have stood by and defended the nominees through thick and thin all these years without an unbroken record? As for us we declare against infidelity and free politics and resent the invasion of doing that we fall among neither class. We have always stood by the party, regardless of whether our personal choice won the nomination.

The other day two prominent Butte supporters said if Mrs. Ferguson is nominated by the party the fight against her will be as manifest as in 1924. We trust this will not occur; that all who go into the primary will keep the pledge, although with his spirit already manifest, there seems little hope of a reunited party membership.

FERGUSON FORCES LAUNCH CAMPAIGN IN COUNTY

THREE BIG CENTERS OF ENTERTAINMENT

PLANS COMPLETED FOR CELEBRATION AND FIDDLERS CONTEST

A check up Thursday morning showed everything in readiness for the big Two Day American Legion Celebration here Friday and Saturday. Members of the post in session on Monday night made additional plans for the entertainment of the crowds. It was announced as an additional feature that a Rodeo Parade will be held at noonday each day showing the George Koy Rodeo train from Sealy, Texas. This parade will be in charge of H. M. Akers who is chairman of the committee.

A band concert at the city park will be held each day at noon in order to entertain the people who will go there for the shade and recreation. Three bands will be used by the Legion in the two day program. The Pioneer Concert Band will make music for the big street dance, the municipal band will be asked to give the park concerts and play for the speaking on Saturday when Hon. T. O. Walton of A. & M. College will address the people. The Junior band will be asked to play for the Rodeo performance each day and night.

Probably the outstanding feature of the celebration will be the old fiddlers' contest which has been proclaimed state wide and will attract a large number of old fiddlers from many parts of the state. Nearly $300 in cash prizes are offered for the winners in the contest.

The rodeo which starts Friday afternoon will feature some of the great outlaw broncos of Texas and some of the cowboy riders. Cash prizes are being offered for the winners in the contest.

no mention of this former resolve to keep the party breakers out was made. Some of the committee members are known to be for Moody and as the Moody campaign cannot succeed without the support of the Klan, and as the attorney general seems to have the endorsement of the Felix Robertson vote, it is of course, temporarily expedient to take back into the fold those who bolted.

It was a distinct shock to many who supported Dan Moody in the last election for attorney general to learn of his infidelity. Moody was swept into office by the anti-klan tide, his popularity coming as a result of his prosecution and conviction of the Williamson county floggers. Now that Dan Moody has the support and backing of the same crowd who fought him, gives way but for one answer. We believe it incumbent upon Mr. Moody or his supporters to say whether he has traded with the klan and why he is now silent on that question, or whether he still stands for the same things he espoused in the election of 1924 when he telegraphed Mrs. Otto Lange offering his services to prosecute the Burleson county murderers of her husband, and accounted for other ways in which he showed his opposition.

The peace that has come to this state is worth more to Texas under the Ferguson administration than all the money that has been in the state treasury since the state began. The tranquility, security and happiness of the people under the administration of Mrs. Ferguson is one of the outstanding successes of her term in office. The campaign of abuse against Jim Ferguson is rank infidelity as well as cowardly and denotes neither merit or worthiness for consideration. "One good term deserves another."

JOSEPH WELDON BAILEY
Former United States Senator

Joseph Weldon Bailey has been invited by the Milam County Ferguson Club to address the voters of Milam and adjoining counties at Cameron. The date for this speaking has not been set, the committee awaiting a convenient time for the former senator to come here.

BARBECUE DINNER AT WAYSIDE INN FRIDAY AND SAT. JULY 2-3

Edwood Cammer, proprietor of the Wayside Inn is advertising a barbecue dinner for Friday and Saturday, July 2 and 3 for the benefit of the crowds who come here and want to eat their lunch on the river. The beef will be corn fed and barbecued in the old approved style over the hot coals and the pit.

Mr. Cammer has also announced a big dance for each night and will assist in every way possible in entertaining the people.

MOODY INCOMPETENT; DOESN'T KNOW THE CONSTITUTION; MORRISON IS CHEERED FOR DEFENSE OF LAW

Dan Moody is incompetent to be governor because he does not know the constitution and must take oath to enforce the constitution if he is elected, was the estimate placed on him Wednesday night when W. A. Morrison spoke at the court house for Mrs. Ferguson for governor.

Mr. Morrison discussed the bond validation issue now in politics, declaring it has raised a serious contention and the people who understand the constitution better than Dan Moody must uphold it or surrender all their rights.

Mr. Morrison spoke to a well filled room in the district court chamber. The applause that greeted his attack on Dan Moody was loud and frequent. The audience was made up largely of country people from many sections of the county who are interested in the charge that Ferguson has come out for repudiating the bonds.

Mr. Morrison made it plain that Mrs. Ferguson does not want to see

"TOOK RAGS OFF THEIR HEADS WHEN WE ELECTED MA," SAYS CHAMBERS IN SCORING MOODY'S DESERTION

"We elected Ma Ferguson and took the rags off their heads," said W. W. Chambers in a speech at the court house last night in the interest of the candidacy of Mrs. Ferguson.

When Mr. Chambers scored Dan Moody for lining up with the klan the people loudly cheered him. His speech was a review of the accomplishments of the administration, one of them, he said, was the unmasking of the klan and stopping whippings and mob violence in Texas.

Mr. Chambers told of the savings to the people in tax money, scored the politicians for trying to steal ten million dollars in the sale of the penitentiary which was stepped by Mrs. Ferguson.

Some local anti-klan leaders prominent in the election of 1924 in opposing the klan, came in for a round drubbing by the veteran. He said two

GILLIS SPEAKS FRIDAY YARRELTON FOR MOODY

CRITICISES FERGUSON FOR FAILURE TO REDUCE EXPENSES OF STATE

W. G. Gillis delivered the first campaign speech for the Moody club in Milam county on last Friday night at Yarrelton at a meeting held at the home of Sam Debbis who invited Mr. Gillis to make the address.

Wm. Henderson of Cameron introduced the speaker. Only a small crowd was present to hear the talk at it had not been advertised. Others who accompanied the speaker from Cameron were S. M. Burns and Van Tyson. Mr. Gillis will make other speeches for Moody, although no engagements are now existing.

He told the audience that Moody is the best man for Governor. He struck a blow at the Ku Klux by saying he had stood against them in 1924; that he had supported T. W. Davidson in the first primary and Mrs. Ferguson in the second, and he did not believe in Klan control of politics.

He scored Jim Ferguson for his platform in which he said he would reduce the expenditures of the government, but the record shows, he said that Jim failed to bring home the bacon. He read from a newspaper clipping showing the increased expenditures in several departments of the state government.

He said he did not believe in a proxy governor, and also voiced his opposition to the Fergusons when he said they had promised not to run again; that they have had enough vendication as shown by the election and the passage of the amnesty bill. "I think

SURFACE WELL WATER FOUND CONTAMINATED

TESTS MADE SHOW WELLS NOT SAFE IN TYPHOID LOCALITY

Dr. Leland Denson has been advised by the state health department that surface water wells located in a specified locality in the city are unsafe and steps are to be taken at once to make them sanitary.

It is pointed out that many cases of typhoid fever have been reported in the past few years in this particular section of the city and the officers believe that they have located the source of the disease. There is one case in that section at present.

It is not safe to drink water from these wells unless it is first boiled or the wells placed in sanitary condition.

FUTURE BECKONS YOUNG AMERICANS

Achievements of Past Only Show
Great Opportunity Ahead.

Great events of the past quarter century which lead some young men to complain that all the big things have been done, leaving no opportunity for them, as a matter of fact only go to show that even greater opportunity today lies ahead of them, F. N. Shepherd, Executive Manager of the American Bankers Association, recently told members of the American Institute of Banking in New York. After reviewing the outstanding accomplishments in science, industry and finance during the last twenty-five years, Mr. Shepherd emphasized the reward given men of achievement in America, especially in the financial field.

"The achievements of the past are the groundwork for the opportunities of today and tomorrow," he said. "There never was a time when so great were the potentialities of the individual. The world was never so ready and able to pay well for what it wants. For superior service to society under competitive conditions, whether through invention or production or organization or distribution of useful articles, no reward is begrudged, particularly here in America."

"Adding to human comfort and human needs, these things make life finer and better. The world has shared, but it is in America that they have reached their highest development and utilization. The American spirit of useful enterprise, however, does not confine itself within our own borders. It permeates the entire world and renders great service to peoples other than our own."

"Let us pass over America's service to humanity in the war and consider what is being done now. Largely to rebuild the economic life of a world shattered by the war and its devastating after effects, America has, since the war, loaned other peoples over ten billion dollars. Last year alone a billion and a half in foreign financing was consummated in the United States. American financial genius has so far readjusted our banking machinery to meet enlarged international obligations that stupendous foreign loans, such as the $100,000,000 Dawes plan credit to Germany, are concluded and the books closed after being open to public subscription only a few minutes."

"With our new world viewpoints we in America have many great things yet to do. These things are typical of the broadminded world viewpoint of American finance. It shows the vision necessary to the men who guide our business affairs today. Certainly there is an inspiration in this and the great opportunities which await us."

Bankers and business men of the leading towns of Taylor county, Texas, employed a county agent last spring, and requested that he vigorously promote boys' and girls' club activities. As a result of his work over 300 club members were enrolled. Work is being concentrated this year on poultry culling and grain sorghum seed selection. This fall there will be exhibits and contests, for which the business men are contributing generous prizes.

Wash Kidneys If They Hurt

Take Salts to flush Kidneys if Back pains you or Bladder bothers.

Flush your kidneys with salts occasionally, says a noted authority, who tells us that too much meat and rich food may form uric acid, which almost paralyzes the kidneys in their efforts to expel it from the blood. They become sluggish and weaken; then you suffer with a dull misery in the kidney region, sharp pains in the back or sick headache, dizziness, your stomach sours, tongue is coated, and when the weather is bad you have rheumatic twinges. The urine gets cloudy, full of sediment, the channels often get sore and irritated, obliging you to seek relief two or three times during the night.

To help neutralize these irritating acids, to cleanse the kidneys and flush off the body's urinous waste, get four ounces of Jad Salts from any pharmacy here; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days, and your kidneys may then act fine. This famous salts is made from the acids of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate sluggish kidneys; also to neutralize the acids in urine so it no longer irritates, thus often ending bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive; can not injure and makes a delightful effervescent lithia water drink.

Baseball Review

Teddy Lyons, Chicago White Sox ace, has chalked up 12 victories to 5 losses. He is rated with the best of Hoyte, Pennock, Johnson, Alexander, and Vance.

Sport writers declare him the most effective pitcher in the American League although this is only his fourth season in the majors. He went up to the big show in June 1923 direct from Baylor University. Last year he won 21 games and lost 11. If he keeps up his present pace you will find him in a class by himself putting Johnson, Hoyte and Pennock in the shade.

The Teddy Lyons of the Chicago White Sox is the same Teddy that pitched for the Jacksonville baseball club against the Cameron Comets in 1923. He lost his last game before going up to the big show to the Cameron Comets in a pitchers battle with Seigler. The score being 2 to 1 in favor of the Comets.

Another interesting character that is familiar with Cameron fans is the hard hitting and slugging outfielder of the Houston Buffs, Homer Peel.

Leading his club in hitting and all round playing has kept the Houston Buffs in the fifth place. When it comes to hitting you will find Peel's name topping the list of the Texas League sluggers. Peel, Pratt, Konetchy, Miller, Woelber, Riley, Williams, Oliver, Gallaway and Gulley are the "Big Ten" of the Texas league this year.

Jinx Tucker, of the Waco News Tribune says of Peel, "When Peel comes to bat swinging his mighty bludgeon with a terrific swing, all of the fielders become restless and nervous, and when he steps into one, crack, for two bases with two on, you can begin to realize that Peel is the most dangerous hitter in the Texas League especially when men are on the bases."

The Cameron baseball fans are missing some good ball games at the Lawless Green Athletic Park. A no-hit no-run game has already been played, while the Lions club beat the Schumachers with 1 hit and 2 runs although the Schumachers got 3 hits and only 1 run.

SLUGGEST WINS FOR NORTH END OVER THE K. P's.

Last Monday, June 28, the North End outslugged the Knights of Pythias and won an overwhelming victory by the score of 15 to 5.

The leading hitters of the day were Fikes, Baskin, Hoover, Wiley, Denson and Adrian.

Adrian was the star fielder of the day catching some impossible catches while on a full run.

Fikes smashed out four sizzling drives getting 4 hits and 4 runs out of 5 trips to the plate. Baskin got his daily double, that is, a double in every game that he has played.

SCHUMACHER TEAM IN WIN OVER LIONS 19
TO 3 WEDNESDAY

Behind the steady pitching of Paul Raymon the Schumacher club in the city league Wednesday beat the Lions club 19 to 3.

Vaughn Jenness, staunch back stop for the Schumacher, was one of the stars of the game. The Santa Fe team batted around in the fifth and turned the game into a slugfest.

L. Van Perkins pitched five innings and Bob Meusel's playing. Homer Peel and Teddy Lyons both got their start on this field so come out and see some of the future Major and Minor League stars play.

Terry Wiley, hard hitting and scintillating short stop of the North Ends has proven to the fans that he is the best all round player in the City League.

The leading pitcher of the league seems to be Paul Raymond with Shofner Sterling right on his heels.

F. E. Jackson and Larry Hackabeil, second baseman of the Lions and the missed a big chance at second base North End respectively, seem to have not long ago, a chance for the major league. Jackson's hitting is the terror of every team in the league while Hackabeil's fielding is air tight.

In Monday's game Carl Fikes, catcher for the North End, poled out four screaming hits. One double and three singles out of five trips to the plate. He scored on as many hits, helping his team mates slug their way to a 15 to 5 victory over the K. P's.

We see where Andy Cohen former Waco Cub infielder, now with the New York Giants hit out a triple against the Phillies and didn't make a bobble in the field. When he hit the triple he was applauded tremendously. The Jews seem to be very popular with John McGraw as well as with the fans.

Last year, Miller Huggins, midget manager of the New York Yankees, wore out three baseball uniforms by sliding back and forth on the bench. York Giants was sitting pretty but this year its just the opposite. John McGraw has already worn out three suits with the season only half over. John McGraw, manager of the New Huggins seems to be satisfied with the world and every once in a while, when he is sitting on the bench, he is heard to utter, "I'm sitting on top of the league." The Yankees are ten games in the lead over the Chicago White Sox while the Giants are ten games behind the Cincinnati Reds.

But errors by his team mates lost the game. The game was called in the 6th inning on account of darkness. Fred Childress relieved Perkins in the 6th. The next game will be played Monday afternoon between North End and the Lions Club.

SILVER TEA

The woman's organizations of all the churches gave a silver tea at the City Park Tuesday afternoon, the proceeds of which will be used to provide vases for flowers for every room in the Cameron Hospital. A nest in the green tree was provided as a receptacle for the silver gifts of those who attended. Mrs. Roy Jeter presided for Mrs. Ben Atkinson. Each Auxiliary had a chosen speaker to explain its plan of organization and the charities fostered. Mrs. Simmie Burns represented the Baptist Missionary Society, Mrs. Guy Slocumb, the Loyal Woman's Council, Mrs. W. G. Gillis the Presbyterian Auxiliary, Mrs. Roy Jeter the Episcopal Guild, Miss Rose Rischard the St. Rita's Circle and Mrs. W. O. Triggs the Methodist Missionary Society and in addition presented the cause of Federation of the Societies. Discussion followed and much favorable comment was heard. The chairman is to appoint a committee from each organization to canvas the matter more thoroughly and to report at a later federation meeting.

Mrs. Charles Price assisted by a committee served ice cream and cake. A delightful season of conversation was enjoyed by the very large group of ladies present.

GARDEN PARTY

Friday afternoon Mrs. George T. Graves entertained with a daisy garden party. Twelve tables were daintily outfitted for 42, each centered with shasta daisies in bud vases which were awarded as favors to Mesdames W. A. Bonds, George Drury, M. G. Cox, Grover White, Charles McDermott, Mack Fox, H. F. Smith, Jr., Albert Triggs, Van Perkins, Charles Frank Green, R. J. Long and Andrew Freeman. Punch was served during the progress of the games and near the conclusion of the afternoon the hostess, assisted by Mesdames John and Wiley Mangum served orange ice topped with whipped cream and individual cake squares embossed with daisies.

BRIDGE AND 42

Tuesday morning and Wednesday morning the home of Mrs. John Mangum was the scene of two beautiful arranged in covers of yellow, lavender parties. Nine game tables were gayly and green and butterflies were featured in the game accessories. Bridge was played on Tuesday morning and for skill Mrs. A. E. Cruse won the high score trophy, a butterfly flower holder, and Miss Aetna Smith was consoled for low by a butterfly powder box. 42 was the favored diversion on Wednesday morning and butterfly hand decorated fans in green and lavender were given for high and low score. Butterfly salad and green fruit punch were served by the hostess, assisted by Mesdames Wiley Mangum and George T. Graves.

BEAUTIFUL LAWN PARTY HONORS VISITOR

With the beautiful china trees and hedges and masses of daisies and touch-me-nots supplying the attractive background, and myriad colored lights twinkling overhead, a very lovely setting was afforded the lawn party given Thursday evening by Miss Nettie Webb, assisted by her sisters, Mrs. Margaret McClure and Mrs. Baker Cummings, to compliment Miss Grace Eplen of Cameron who is visiting her uncle, Jim Eplen and Mrs. Eplen. Japanese decorations were elaborately employed in appointing the six tables arranged for playing progressive 42, and symbols of the 'flowery kingdom' decorated the tallies, place cards and score pads.

Top scores in the games went to Miss Mary Lyon and Mr. Eddie Williams and consolations to Miss Oreane Duffee and Mr. Raymond Lewis, and appropriate awards were made to them. Victrola music enlivened the hour.

The hostess' mother, Mrs. Julia Webb and Mrs. Neallie Duffee assisted in entertaining. Delicious iced melons were served.

Miss Webb's friends spending the happily planned hour with the charming honoree were Misses Mary Lyons, Tilda Burton, Jackie Woods, Ruth Shiflett, Velma Shahan, Lucile Winship, Hazel Robertson, Jewell Hatton, Oreane Duffee, Annie Mac McIntyre, Totsye Webb, Mrs. Margaret McClure, Mr. and Mrs. Baker Cummings, Messrs. JUDGE HORNSBY VISITS FRIENDS IN CAMERON

CANDIDATE FOR ATTORNEY GENERAL WILL GET WIDE SUPPORT IN COUNTY

Calling upon his friends here Wednesday Judge John W. Hornsby, candidate for attorney general, in Cameron Wednesday to greet his friends, expressed satisfaction over the progress of his campaign. Judge Hornsby will receive liberal support in Milam county.

Judge John W. Hornsby was born and spent his boyhood days on a farm at Hornsby's Bend in Travis county, where his great-grandfather Reuban Hornsby, pioneer and Indian fighter, located in 1830 as a member of Stephen F. Austin's upper colony. His grandfather William W. Hornsby was a veteran of the Mexican wars of 1836 and 1845. His father Malcolm M. Hornsby served with the Confederate army throughout the Civil war and was later sheriff of Travis county for several years. Judge Hornsby was educated in the Austin Public schools and Trinity University.

Judge Hornsby has rendered able and conspicuous service to the state in line with the duties of the attorney general's office. Some years ago he instituted and successfully conducted through all the courts, against an array of prominent legal talent, the famous "Punch and Chicken Salad case," the result being a considerable saving to the tax payers. He has successfully represented the state in a number of penalty suits for violations of the oil and gas conservation laws.

In the conflict between Texas and Oklahoma, Judge Hornsby as Texas receiver, by a clever ruse, ousted the Oklahoma receiver and gained possession of the valuable property in controversy and retained it, although threatened with the militia of that state.

During recent years, he discovered and developed the facts upon which a judgement for more than $17,000.00 was collected for the state in one anti-trust suit in which he was joined by the attorney general. More than enough to pay the salary of the Attorney general for four years.

In addition to these services, he has prosecuted a number of important criminal cases, including three murder cases in which death penalty verdicts were rendered.

Judge Hornsby has met the members of every Texas legislature for more than a quarter of a century, and during the past thirty years has personally known thousands of the young people who have been students in the University of Texas.

He is well equipped and in all ways qualified to properly and efficiently represent the state, and to safeguard and protect the interest of the people at all times, which he will faithfully do.

Davis Brooks of Forney is the guest of his sister, Mrs. C. F. Green.

Texas Ex-Governors

There are five living ex-governors of Texas. Four of them served this state with distinction, and retired from office with the respect and confidence of the people. One was impeached and removed from office because of unfaithfulness. The four, Joseph D. Sayers, O. B. Colquit, W.P. Hobby and Pat Neff, are now supporting Dan Moody for Governor; the one, James E. Ferguson, is still supporting Ferguson for that office.

they have had vindication enough," he said.

While the speaker did not charge corruption, he said he did not approve the conduct of the highway department nor the award of the book contract.

On the bond validation question the speaker said something should be done; that assurances should be given by the governor of a definite date to call the legislature so as to give comfort to holders of these securities which are negotiable. Mr. Gillis did not attempt to say which of the three plans offered for validation should be carried out, explaining Tuesday that he had not made a study of the question to speak out for any one of the plans, but believes the credit of the state should be restored.

Mr. Gillis did not discuss the pardon record, although it was expected that he would do so, as the opposition to Ferguson has made of the pardon record an issue.

Mr. Gillis said Moody is not a Ku Klux and charged that Ferguson has appointed klansmen and ex-klansmen to office and that road contracts have been awarded to them.

Tiny Finds
a Way

By HOMER B. KING

(© 1925, Western Newspaper Union.)

TO BIG JIM CARNAHAN—Lippy—and Tiny Perkin, had come the parting of the ways.

It was the finding of a rich old river bed at the end of the fifty-foot tunnel they had driven into a hill that caused the trouble; after years of seeking, the possibility of sudden wealth had suddenly awakened in Lippy the devil's rapacity.

Today the last of the gravel they had wheeled out was being sluiced and Carnahan had driven Tiny away, swearing he would twist his skinny old neck if he came back before the work was finished. Sneaking around through the brush, Tiny hid close to where the big fellow was working, and for two hours watched him, and before leaving he knew Carnahan was robbing him.

When Carnahan entered the cabin Tiny greeted him in his usual cheery manner.

"How'd she clean, Lippy, boy?" he chirped.

"Not much—that's all," Carnahan growled, dropping two slim buckskin dust bags on a slab table.

An hour after Carnahan took from beneath his bunk two other bags of gold dust.

"Pull up!" he ordered. "I'm going to divide what we've got."

"What's the idea, boy? Can't we do that when we get to Mt. Idaho?"

"No! We're splittin' right now."

"Why?"

"Because," Lippy rasped, thrusting his heavy face forward, "because, old man, you leave tomorrow for outside. I'm through supportin' you."

"Why, Lippy, you ain't supportin' me—our claim's more than doin' that," Carnahan laughed shortly.

"Our claim?" he scoffed. "Ain't you woke up yet to the fact that you ain't got no claim? It's mine, old man."

After pouring half of the second bag on a piece of paper, folding it and pushing it toward Tiny, he rose, and first placing his gold beneath his jacket pillow he dropped on his bunk.

For a time Tiny sat silent. "Boy," he at last quivered, "what you've done ain't square, but I've lived a long time and seen lots of things—and understand. I've found out that gold madness is worse than most anything a man can get—and Lippy you've got it!"

"Shut up or I'll—"

"See," Tiny interrupted, "it'd make you murder your best friend. Come on, son, let's get away. We'll go down to Mt. Idaho and spend the winter."

Carnahan leaped to his feet. "Cut it, you old rat! I know what you are drivin' at—you want to get me out where you can make a fight for half of this claim. Well, you don't do it—and tomorrow you git!"

It was after midnight when Tiny, leaving Carnahan snoring loudly, slipped out and hurried up the creek to the tunnel. Lighting a stub of candle he went inside. In half an hour he found Carnahan's cache. His next move was to stick fuses into several sticks of giant. Five fuses he capped; the others he only tied to the powder and dropped them into a sack which he hung across his shoulder, leaving the fuses dangling. Next he placed two of the loaded sticks at the tunnel mouth, lighted them and ran down the creek toward the cabin.

He was still running when the explosion came and small rocks rattled about him. He heard the roar of sliding earth and knew the tunnel was no more. Next he heard Carnahan yelling his name as he ran toward him, and slipping into the brush he let him rush past. Then he ran on to the cabin.

First he took the gold from beneath Carnahan's pillow. Next he carried out their remaining grub, Carnahan's clothes and their blankets. Dividing the food he put his part into his sack; the other half he left on top of the blankets. Placing two sticks of giant in the doorway he again ran. Then came the roar and the cabin was a jumble of logs.

"Two minutes after, raging like a crazy man, Carnahan came running back, and Tiny, swinging about his head a stick of dynamite with lighted fuse, yelling like a mad man, leaped toward him.

"Git out of the way!" he screamed. "Git! I'm comin'! I'm the powder man—powder man!" he sang, and disappeared into the bush as the roar of the powder he had thrown sounded.

Lippy gave one look and ran as though devils were pursuing him.

In Mt. Idaho, two days later, Lippy, red-eyed and haggard from sleepless nights of terror, stood before Sheriff Adams.

"I tell you, sheriff," he was saying, "he's plum crazy. Poor little devil. Why, man, he done his best to blow me to smithereens with dynamite. He did blow up our tunnel and cabin. We'd made the biggest cleanup of our lives, too, and he blowed it plum to kingdom come, but—"

"Hello, Lippy—figgered I'd find you here," Tiny called from the doorway. "Beat me in by an eyelash, didn't you?"

"Look out!" Lippy yelled, dodging behind a desk. "Look out! He's got the powder in that sack! Look out!"

Tiny grinned.

"Don't get excited, sheriff. I throwed the powder away 'fore I got into town. I got suthin' better'n powder here," and he dumped on the desk six buckskin bags. "Wish you'd weigh that sheriff. Half's mine and half's Lippy's. Him and me had a little argument back at the mine. Howsomer, it's settled now, ain't it Lippy?"

THREE BIG CENTERS

day between Cameron and Brenham and the Beaumont Oilers of Austin will give fans a real treat.

For the big picnic dinner in the park a special committee has been authorized to provide barbecue which will be sold at reasonable prices to those who wish to take their lunch in the park where the band will give a concert during the noon hours.

Several delegations have come in to ask a specially designated section of the paved street for old time square dancing. A committee in charge of the dance has provided a place for the old time dancers and some of the old fiddlers will be on hand to furnish the music.

The fiddlers contest will be held beginning Friday night with the preliminaries or relimination. The finals will be staged on Saturday night. Contrary to announcements the Legion was unable to arrange for a radio broadcast of the program as the cost is prohibitive. The people will hear some of the old time fiddlers of Texas in this contest. The contests are to be held at the Yoe High School both nights. The auditorium will not seat all the people so those especially desiring to hear the fiddlers will have to get there early on account of the size of the crowd. The Rodeo and street dances will take care of the overflow crowds. Each night there will be three big centers of entertainment and it is assured that everybody will be entertained.

The Legion has refrained from inviting any political candidates believing the celebration should appeal to all therefore everybody will come and enjoy the occasion.

Extra police to handle the crowds and the traffic will be provided by Joe Richter who has been asked by the Legion to supply the men. Cold drinks stands and all concessions will be operated by the Legion in conjunction with Grady Houston.

There will be fun for everybody, a great western rodeo, and the greatest collection of old time fiddlers in the history of the state.

GETS WEEDS OFF ALL
VACANT LOTS IS PLAN

CITY SANITARIAN ASKS CO-OPERATION TO RID CITY OF RANK VEGETATION

If Cameron citizens had noticed during the last week, they would have found in the Waco, Houston and Dallas papers that these cities are putting on extensive campaigns to rid their vacant lots, streets and unoccupied property of weeds. These campaigns are not being put on for beauty alone, but also for the sake of sanitation. There is no doubt that weeds harbor transmitters of disease organisms during the day which cannot live in the sun for more than two hours if that long.

Now that Cameron is putting on a campaign to prevent these various pests from multiplying, why should we encourage and house those that are already with us. Beginning today, Cameron is starting a campaign against weeds. Every one is requested therefore, to see that all the weeds on his or her property and on the sidewalks adjoining out to the ditch are cut before next Thursday, July 8, 1926. Mr. Wm. R. Rogers has agreed to see that the weeds in the streets will be moved this week.

The city council wishes to thank the people of Cameron for the excellent co-operation that the Health Campaign is receiving and to urge that the proposition of cutting all weeds within the city limits is looked after as soon as possible.

Rev. C. L. Boone, for the past year missionary for the Baptist Association of Milam County, has resigned his place on account of ill health and has left Cameron for Lampasas where he will try to regain his health.

Rev. Boone leaves behind him many loyal friends and the esteem of all the people, among whom he has worked for a number of years both as Missionary and pastor of the Little River church. He has been advised by Dr. W. R. Newton of the Cameron Hospital that he should not attempt further work at this time and in going to Lampasas will have the advantage of the climate as well as the water supply there.

Before leaving Rev. Boone asked that the Herald be forwarded to his address, Lampasas, Texas, and wants his friends here to know that it is with difficulty that he breaks away from his associations. For the many favors extended him, he gives his thanks and assures the people he will not forget their favors.

Rev. Boone and family hope to return to Milam County as soon as he has recovered his health. They have stored their goods here with the intention of returning.

Girls! Your Health!

San Antonio, Texas.—"My daughter Dovie Lee suffered with a pain in her back and in the back of her head. She would be very nervous when she had those headaches. She often got sick at her stomach and had no appetite. I tried everything for her, sometimes she felt a little better and was soon sick again. Then I put her on Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and Pleasant Pellets and sure enough she was better right away. Her appetite improved, she looked better and slept better and her nerves were much better."—Mrs. I. M. Jones, 1702 W. Laurel. Write Dr. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y., for free medical advice. All dealers. LEGION REPLY TO PASTORS A GOOD ONE SAYS HUTCHERSON; "WE ARE HIT BELOW BELT," HE SAYS; CHURCH AGAINST DANCE

The American Legion reply to the Pastor's Association in protest against the street dance to be given as a feature of the celebration here on July 2 and 3 is a good one said E. S. Hutcherson, pastor of the Baptist church in his Sunday night sermon which was a discussion of the church member, the dance and the American Legion.

"The reply of the Legion is a good one. They have hit us below the Belt," said the pastor in the course of his remarks.

Contrary to expectations on the part of some the pastor did not lambast the Legion but spoke kindly of it. He praised the men for their sacrifice in the war and proclaimed his friendship to this great body of Americans, but deplored its program of fostering street dances.

Church members who dance are reducing the influence of the church in combating the dance and other forms of pleasure outlawed by the code of the church. "We have protested the dance and we find that they gather a great armful of church members and hurl them back at us," said the pastor in deploring the participation of church members in dances.

The pastor spoke his condemnation of the dance in every form, whether a street dance or a dance held in private or other public places, declaring his belief to be that no dance is good and all are degrading.

The pastor made it plain that as a member of the association he was speaking for himself and his church; that others could answer for themselves, but as for his position he wanted it made plain that he is solidly against the dance in any form or in any place.

He said the pastors reached the conclusion as a result of their inclination to protest against this form of pleasure and that as citizens and taxpayers felt they had a right to demand that the streets be not used for this purpose.

He read from the preamble of the constitution of the American Legion which says "For God and Country," declaring that such forms of pleasure are degrading and are not to be reconciled with the inclusion of God in the wording of the constitution.

He said the Legion cannot escape the responsibility for the harm done to the morals of the young people if they foster street dances which he declared in effect are mills of shame and attacked the liquor drinkers and the rough crowd.

The pastor expressed satisfaction that the Legion had made reply as it afforded an opportunity to open the question and to establish the unqualified position of the church. The sermon was generously commended by many who heard it and the church auditorium was packed to capacity as the announcement was made Sunday morning that the pastor would discuss the dance at the night service.

"I want the Legion members to feel that they have in me a real friend but my mission does not permit me to endorse the dance and I declare against it," said the pastor. Dancing church members harm the church, reduce its power to resist evil and bring reproach upon its time honored doctrines against the sinful dance, he declared.

TIGHT FEELING

Stomach Troubles Relieved by the Aid of Black-Draught.

Telling how he obtained relief from very disagreeable symptoms of stomach trouble, Mr. Charles T. Wintz, of R. F. D. 4, Huntington, W. Va., made the following statement:

"I began taking Black-Draught about fifteen years ago. I would have gas on my stomach that just pressed and seemed to shorten my breath, and I would have all kinds of feeling. My head would ache and I was in a very bad fix.

"I had tried remedies that didn't seem to do me any good. I saw Black-Draught advertised and sent for it.

"After taking a few doses, I knew it was helping me. It seemed to break up the gas, and the tight, bloated feeling disappeared, and I was like a new man. I would not be without Black-Draught. I can eat anything I want to. If I get dizziness in the head, Black-Draught relieves it."

SUCCESSFUL YEAR HAD BY BAPTISTS

Convention at Houston Heard Many Gratifying Reports on Work. Evolution Denounced.

$9,000,000 GOAL IS SET

This Objective for Missions and Benevolences to Be Sought By Co-operative Program Commission for 1927.

Following an unusually good record in the work of the local churches and large achievements on the mission fields, there has just been held at Houston, Texas, one of the most successful sessions of the Southern Baptist Convention in recent years. The session was marked by unusual unity, definiteness of purpose and determination to carry forward the work of the Co-operative Program.

DR. GEO. W. McDANIEL
President Southern Baptist Convention.

Following the re-election of Dr. George W. McDaniel, Richmond, Va., as president, he dined in his inaugural address a conviction on the theory of evolution that was promptly and unanimously adopted by the Convention as its own sentiment. Dr. McDaniel said:

"I am happy to believe that this Convention accepts Genesis as teaching that man was the special creation of God and rejects every theory, evolution or other, which teaches that man originated in, or came by way of, a lower animal ancestry."

With the evolution question disposed of, the Convention was able to proceed with a consideration of its great missionary and benevolent enterprises.

Here are some of the outstanding developments of the Convention:

GOAL OF $9,000,000 SET UP

1. In the hope of enabling the mission boards and other agencies of the Convention to take care of their indebtedness gradually without having to too greatly curtail their present work, an objective of $9,000,000 for missions, education and benevolences was set up for 1927, on recommendation of the Co-operative Program Commission. This money will be applied to foreign, home and state missions, Baptist schools, orphanages and hospitals and ministerial relief, thus taking care of both the state and Southwide Baptist work. It is hoped the Southwide portion of the budget will amount to at least $4,000,000.

2. An effort will be made to enlist 500,000 tithers during the next year.

3. The Foreign Mission Board reported 13,269 baptisms on its fields during the year, a gain of about 1,000 over the previous year. The board has 1,215 churches on the foreign fields with 140,488 members, 3,247 out-stations where preaching services are held from time to time, and 528 missionaries and 2,644 native Christian workers employed in 17 countries.

4. Among the results for the year reported by the Home Mission Board were 833 missionaries employed, 19,744 baptisms, 35,226 additions to the churches, 100 new churches and 458 Sunday schools organized, and 402 church houses built or improved.

DENOMINATION GREW DURING YEAR

5. The Sunday School Board reported total business receipts for the year of $1,710,471. Of this amount $380,344 was put back into the general work of the denomination. A total of 89,038 awards in teacher training were made, 403 churches were aided by the Architectural Department in drawing plans for new houses of worship, the number of standard Sunday schools reached 546.

With the gains for the past year the main figures of the denomination are now given by the statistical secretary of the Convention as follows: 26,467 churches, 19,908 ordained ministers, 8,649,330 church members, 21,760 Sunday schools with 2,681,828 pupils, 20,965 church houses, 8,197 pastors' homes, $165,909,278 invested in local church property $30,771,674 contributed to local church objects, $8,355,435 to missions and benevolences and $36,027,000 to all purposes during the past year.

The time is now ripe for a distinct Baptist advance all along the line and especially in a support of the great missionary and benevolent enterprises fostered by the Co-operative Program, the Convention leaders believe.

EYE INJURED

While Miss Julia Tubbs of Ben Arnold was chopping cotton among rocks a piece of steel flew off of the hoe hitting her in the left eye. She was rushed to Dr. Taylor's office in Cameron and on examining the eye it was found the steel had passed through the eye ball lodging beside the optic nerve. It was necessary to cut open the eye ball as in such accidents and remove the steel. This was done on June 22. The eye has improved daily and today her vision is near normal.

MRS. J. A. HALEY, OF MIDLAND PAYS ELOQUENT TRIBUTE TO GOV. FERGUSON AND HUSBAND

Following is the speech made by Mrs. J. A. Haley at Midland introducing Former Governor J. E. Ferguson when he spoke there June 17:
Mr. Chairman and fellow Citizens:

Ten years ago I stood before you for the same purpose that I come today. Since that time some of the greatest changes in the affairs of men have taken place; the great world war was fought and much of its horror has been forgotten in the rush of business, politics and religion. Texas has undergone many changes. Two years ago one of the greatest political battles of the state was fought for the governorship and a woman won. The first woman to be elected to that high office in these United States. It was a battle between pure democracy on the one side, and klans, politicians and newspaper intrigues on the other. But the people, the God fearing laboring people rallied to the support of this good woman, and honored husband, and she was elected by an overwhelming majority.

Each of them is Texas born of pioneer Texas parents and the old time cowman of this country knows what a pioneer Texan means.

Our beloved governor is a daughter of Uncle Joe and Mrs. Wallace, pioneers of Bell county. They fed and slept the stranger the same as you, met and conquered dangers, builded schools and churches, and in every way worked unselfishly for their country and posterity.

Today the soil of Texas is enriched by the assimilation of such remains as theirs, and we should not marvel at the great and noble woman who has made us the forgiving, God fearing womanly, who never sought political prestige, but who was content to make a home and devote her entire time to this and her church, but who when she felt it her duty to defend that home and those she held dear, rose in the strength of her forefathers and came to the aid of a devoted husband whom the people had twice honored with the greatest trust it was theirs to bestow.

The first governor to put the penitentiary on a paying basis and who has again pulled it out of debt where it was plunged by his successor. He has ten thousand modern school houses and you can not go to the county clerk in person, you may still vote by going before a notary public after July 4, or before July 14, and show your poll tax receipt. He will send such papers to the county clerk, who will mail you a ballot, which you will mark and return to the notary public. He will send it to the county clerk to be voted in the usual way.

"Milam county will make 75,000 bales of cotton," said E. R. Wolf to Reporterman on the street Tuesday. "I have never seen cotton make such a wonderful improvement as during the past ten days." Mr. Wolf is one of the best posted men in the country on crop conditions, being a close observer, and his work as traveling salesman carrying him all over the county. He says that while the cotton acreage is much larger than last year, yet there is going to be lots of feed raised also, and a fairly good corn crop.—Rockdale Reporter.

It is my pleasure to welcome him to our fair city, that bears evidence of their administration in this splendid highway.

The knees of many Midland citizens and many more West Texans should be bent in humble gratitude to Governor Ferguson for saving to them the thousands of dollars she did when she signed the bill whereby they were allowed to forfeit and reclaim their school lands, eliminating the interest that had accrued on it in the years of drouth when it was impossible for them to meet their obligations.

We are fewer in numbers than many parts of the state, but we are great in big-heartedness and hospitality, and I believe Midland will show her appreciation by swelling the majority for a second term in this great country, where the West is.

I am pleased to present to you, the inimitable, the only Jim Ferguson.

1925 ABSENTEE VOTING

"Any qualified voter who expects to be out of the city on primary election day, may exercise his privilege of absentee voting. After July 14 or before July 21, the voter may mark a ballot in the presence of a county clerk, seal it and return it to the presiding judge on election day. If temporarily absent from the county,

If Back Hurts Begin on Salts

Flush your Kidneys occasionally if you eat too much meat.

No man or woman who eats lots of meat regularly can make a mistake by flushing the kidneys occasionally, says a well-known authority. Too much meat may form uric acid, which clogs the kidney pores so that they sluggishly filter or strain only part of the waste and poisons from the blood; then you get sick. Rheumatism, headaches, liver trouble, nervousness, constipation, dizziness, sleeplessness, bladder disorders often come from sluggish kidneys.

The moment you feel a dull ache in the kidneys or your back hurts, or if the urine is cloudy, offensive, full of sediment, irregular of passage or attended by a sensation of scalding, get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any reliable pharmacy and take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys may then act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush clogged kidneys and stimulate them to activity, also to help neutralize the acids in urine so it no longer causes irritation, thus often ending bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is inexpensive and can not injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia water drink, which everyone can take now and then to help keep the kidneys clean and the blood pure, thereby often preventing serious kidney complications.

WALKER TO HEAD GILMER SCHOOLS

W. J. Walker, who has been superintendent of the Killean School for the past three years has recently accepted a position as superintendent of the Gilmer Schools. Mr. Walker considers his new position a promotion from the standpoint of increased opportunity for service, as well as an advance in salary.

Mr. Walker has been wide awake to all the interests of the school during his administration here. Through his watchful alertness and ever readiness to serve the school he has raised its standards in many ways. When he came here three years ago we were without a building, the school house having burned the March previous. He supervised the construction of the building we have at present. He also looked after the purchasing of equipment, among which is $1,500 worth of laboratory equipment, a $1,250 high school library, $300 worth of pictures, and $900 worth of stage curtains.

Through his efforts a $300 program clock which is run by electricity has been installed in the school. During his superintendency the P. T. A. has presented to the school $1,000 worth of play ground equipment. Four new teachers have been added to the corps, and a number of scholastics transferred into the district has increased 50 per cent. He has introduced departmental work in the grades and added the position of Grammar Grade principal. It has been largely through his efforts that four and a half additional credits of affiliation have been secured in the high school.

Gilmer, the town to which Mr. Walker is going, has a population of between three and four thousand. As an indication of its progress the town might be mentioned that it supports a daily newspaper and a rotary club. Some of the streets are now being paved.

Mr. Walker has many loyal friends here who congratulate the Gilmer School board on their choice of a superintendent. Killean Herald.

Bright Wings of Romance

By RALPH D. PAINE

(© 1925, Western Newspaper Union.)

TIME had been very cruel to Harriet Brent. To some women the years come like an Indian summer. Harriet Brent lived alone in an old house, which also had come to have an aspect unlovely and forlorn. Four-square to the road it stood, its fields bounded by stone walls heaped together by the tenacious toll of New England pioneers.

A house that still braved the weather staunchly, it had sheltered many children and known many joys and sorrows. This its broad roof conveyed to the passer-by. For one elderly woman to dwell alone in it was like sitting by the dead ashes of a hearthstone.

Harriet Brent was not unhappy. In her heart, which seemed untenanted by warm emotions, there lived unquenched one divine spark of the true romance. Her faded eyes could soften in wistful reverie.

The Harriet Brent of those many, many years gone by had been a sensitive, slender girl of a certain flower-like, fleeting beauty. Delicate, they had called her. A shy girl, moving in misty day-dreams which she had been reluctant to reveal.

Eighteen she was when the lad had come from a larger town for a brief visit with cousins on a nearby farm. So brief—only a week. He had made love to her, with an ardor boyish and turbulent. Unashamed, she had returned his kisses.

Careless, splendid, debonaire, swearing he loved her forever and ever, he had passed on and forgotten her.

Harriet Brent did not forget him. Life is sometimes that way. The spirit of romance had once, only once, brushed her with its bright wings. Time healed the poignant sorrow. It came to be that she was glad to bear the scar. Even in these somber later years she could sit and thank God that she had known love and kisses and aching rapture.

One day this harsh-featured, unsmiling splinter went out to feed the hens. She had clapped on a battered, haymaker's straw hat. A shawl was thrown over her faded shirt-waist. The old skirt had been chopped off to make it easier to do the chores. The rubber boots were handy because there was mud in the hen yard.

The empty pan in her hand, Harriet Brent stood staring at a very large and glittering automobile which had halted in front of the house. The chauffeur was studying a weather-beaten guide-board on a post. A handsome woman, ruddy, dignified, spoke to the gentleman beside her. He left the car and walked to the gate of Harriet Brent's dooryard. She came clumping from the barn path to meet him.

"Is this the road to Warechester, if you please?"

"Yes, take the first road to the right after you climb the hill beyond the watering-trough."

"Thank you, and may my man have a pail of water to fill his radiator? If you will be good enough to show him where the well is—"

"I'll fetch you a pail," grimly spoke Harriet Brent. She lingered a moment to survey this vigorous, genial stranger with the close-cropped, grizzled mustache, the keen eyes, the air of substantial importance. Time had not been cruel to him. Life had been gracious nor had it obliterated that dominating quality which had made him victorious in boyhood.

Yes, Harriet Brent knew him as soon as they stood face to face, but the expression of her worn features was unchanged. She went into the shed and returned with a pail. The man who had come out of the past seemed in no haste to rejoin his wife in the car nor did he hear her when she called to him. He was gazing at the shabby old house and at the apple orchard beyond. His demeanor was curiously abstracted. His eyes were grave but his smile had a boyish sweetness as he said:

"This fine old place has run down. Too bad. I remember it years ago. A family named Brent lived here then. Do you know what became of them?"

"Dead and gone," replied Harriet. "You can see the stones in the little burying ground at the edge of the orchard."

"Yes, it was a long time ago. There was a daughter, a very lovely girl. I met her one summer, when I was a boy. Married, I suppose, and a grandmother by now?"

"She has gone, too, so I've heard say," steadily answered Harriet in a low voice. Her hand pulled the edges of the shawl together and remained there to rest on her heart. "Yes, the girl you used to know has gone from here."

His wife spoke impatiently. He turned with a start. Presently the car rolled away from the house by the road. He glanced back, more than once. From behind the ancient lilac bush, Harriet Brent watched the car vanish. Then she clasped her hands and murmured, in prayer:

"Oh, thank God he didn't know me. But he remembered—and he loved to remember. He was loving the girl that has gone. I didn't expect anything could ever make me so happy."

She went into the house and kindled a blaze in the huge fireplace of the sitting-room. By its glow she sat with folded hands, while the red coals covered the dead ashes. Her face was no longer harsh and unlovely. The bright wings of romance had brushed

MOODY FOLLOWERS IN COUNTY ORGANIZATION

Wm. R. ROGERS ELECTED HEAD OF CAMPAIGN COMMITTEE FOR MILAM

Wm. R. Rogers has been elected chairman of the Moody for Governor club in Milam County.

The meeting of Moody supporters was held Monday and the election of a chairman was held. The supporters have named a committee of six men to assist in the campaign plans for the county.

The Moody supporters have begun their campaign and W. G. Gillis is the first speaker to take the stump, delivering an address to a small crowd of people at the home of Sam Dobbs at Yarrelton on last Friday night.

It is not unlikely that the county will witness a speaking program similar to the campaign of 1924 when the Klan issue was discussed.

The young attorney general has a liberal support among the leaders of the 1924 campaign but a large number are supporting Mrs. Ferguson and some are supporting Lynch Davidson.

The Milam county Moody Club is preparing to give the attorney general a large crowd when he speaks in Rockdale on Monday night at Fair park where the American Legion of that city is giving a two day celebration. Local supporters of Mr. Moody say that large delegations from Milam, Williamson, Bell and adjoining counties will be present.

Wm. R. Rogers, chairman of the Moody club, Wednesday announced the appointment of the following committee to manage the Moody campaign in Milam County:

Judd G. Davis
Monta Thomas
Wm. Cobb

What is a Reserve Bank Account?

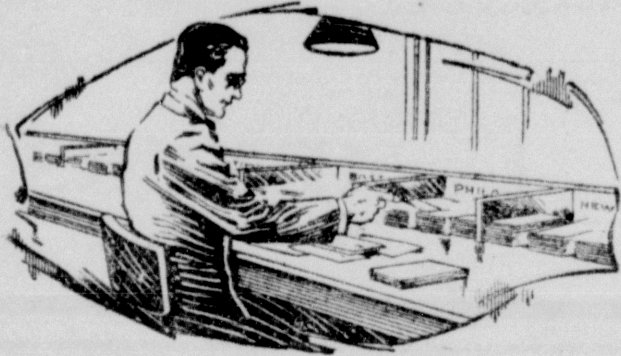

A Reserve Bank account is a sum held in reserve, and is separate and distinct from the regular checking account.

Such a fund, held in reserve, is a positive guarantee that the future will be provided for.

A reserve may soon be built up by putting into it a certain percentage from each deposit made at the bank. This account—held in reserve—and not subject to regular check, is a constant safeguard for the future.

First National Bank

We invite your confidence, friendship and account here.

Float

WHEN you have a check on another bank your bank cashes it or allows you to draw against it in your account.

But this check is not cash. It is only a promise to pay and from one day to two weeks or more must elapse before the bank can collect the money. In the meantime your bank loses the interest on the money you get for the check.

This uncollected balance is called float and is a banking cost that runs into many dollars annually. It is a type of service that is deserving of your support.

THE BATTLE GROUND OF REASON

WANTS DAVIDSON FOR GOVERNOR

To The Cameron Herald:

The people of the great state of Texas are called upon to meet on July 24th, and employ a large number of persons to manage for them the offices for state, county and precincts. Will they use the same mature judgment as they would do if called on to select officers for their bank, store, farm, shop or warehouse or will they go wild over some pleasing personality or fancy and forget the real purpose of this occasion and let the excitement of likes and dislikes becloud their better judgment and forget the fact that they are employing a business manager for the next two years for a great business concern which is owned by the four million people of Texas, who handles in money and amount so vast and stupendous that the finite mind is unable to grasp, perhaps one hundred million dollars a year, and is custodian for them of property in value so stupendous that it dazzles the minds of our best financial minds, yet we pass it along as a mere show, taking sides in bitter personalities of likes and dislikes without regard to the interests of the great state and your interest therein.

You own stock in this great corporation, yes each one of you own stock and are responsible to the amount of stock owned, and will either get a dividend or a loss, you employ a manager and are bound by his acts.

You are bound to pay the loss, and are rewarded by the gain, how are you going to act? With as much mature judgment as you would use in hiring a cashier for your bank, a clerk for your store, or a hand for your farm, or will you be governed by personal appearance, or popularity, or will you use sound reason and mature judgment and vote for one who has been tried and found to be a man of ability whose honesty and ability is unquestioned, who you know will make good.

You and I know men in this county who have been tried and found to be as true as gold, whose word is as good as their bond, who can stand prosperity, and endure adversity, who knows the road through sunshine and clouds. If they will pardon me I wish to mention a few of such men, and there are many more such: H. F. Smith, Walter Lawrence, T. S. Henderson, Robert McLane, Jeff T. Kemp, S. W. Cheeves, Robert McIntosh, Arthur Baskin, Judd Davis, T. F. Hardy, Geo. T. Graves, Roy Jeter, Lee Batte, Joe Mondrik, J. C. Joseph, Oxsheer Smith, W. O. Newton, Henry Healey, Monta Thomas, Dan Tyson, Ben Atkinson, Charlie Green, Albert Green, W. A. Morrison, Albert Lankford, Sealy Lampkin, Shep McLenren, John A. Smith, all of Cameron. Will Garner, J. O. Newton, H. C. Meyer, Bev Baldrige, W. E. Gaither, Emory Camp, C. C. Bethea of Rockdale. Sam Clement, Charlie Davis, Chas. Saller, O. D. Graham of Thorndale. A. Y. Norman, Hardin and Hope Camp, Ed Kirkman, Frank Amerson of San Gabriel. Dan G. Davis, L. S. Dilworth, Will Davis, Albert Reichert, Walter Rosenberg, Lon Raby, Frank Graham, of Sharp. Robert P. Kerr, Jim Pruett, Ed Wilson, George Smith, Jim Jones, L. M. Massey of Davilla. Dr. J. Z. Young, Floris Criswell, Thomas Blinaka, Seth Corley, Sam Mewhinney, T. V. Adams, Ed Hamilton of Buckholts. And a host of others you and I could mention who have been tried and will "stand hitched".

Unfortunately none of these are running for Governor or any office but we can emulate these by voting for a man of experience and ability, whose integrity and honesty is unquestioned, who will go into the governor's chair unfettered, untied, capable and willing to serve the people of Texas with honor and distinction with manner as Camp Cameron. Selismee that same safe and business like manner as he did in his private business, lifting Texas out of a chaos and restore us to and give us visions of that great patriot James Stephen Hogg.

Let us join hands and hearts in the aid of answering the prayer of this great man by voting for Lynch Davidson for governor of Texas on July 24th, next and the rising generation will rise up and call you blessed for votes of 1926.

J. P. LOONEY,
Buckholts, Texas, Route 3.

SHADOWS AGAINST AN OLD FARM HOUSE

By Max Reynolds

Out of the still, quiet
Darkness
Vague and fluttering
Shadows appear
Against the wall
Of an old white-washed Farmhouse.
The stars glitter
And short sprays
Of gleaming, white
Bubbles fall
On the flowers.
The air smells
Of honey—clover
And restfulness.
The vague and fluttering
Shadows dance upon
The wall,
While I lie awake
And listen to their
Soft, fleeting footsteps.

A PORTRAIT

Little white-silver fairies
With blue and golden wings
Dance in my unconscious
Brain,
And I paint:
Old castles
And lovely maidens
Walking
In formal gardens.
Tall, green hedges
Hide the maidens
From public gaze,
And the sunlight
Falls on their
Pale, pure faces
They whisper in Low, soft voices
And walk with
Their heads bowed.
Shyly they glance
At the young gardener
As they pass by
And give him
One of their rare smiles,
Reverently, he takes off
His worn, gray cap
And bows
With great dignity.
The youngest maiden
Of them all
Looks at him
Demurely—very demurely—
And throws to him
A white, kissed rose.
He presses it
To his lips
And murmurs
Very softly
To himself
The youngest maiden
Does not hear
What he said
But her woman's heart
Tells her
She is right
And she gives him
Another rare smile!

—Max Reynolds.

Uncle Mike James, Texas Fiddler, Is Here For Contest

Mike James, noted Texas Fiddler and former resident of Milam county, is here for the state wide American Legion fiddlers contest to be held on Friday and Saturday night.

RIGHTS AND DUTIES

Too many people are very much interested in demanding their rights, but are not much concerned about the duties that they owe. This thought was expressed by Dr. O'Shea, superintendent of schools in New York city, in requesting that the teachers read the Declaration of Independence to their children. He felt that in addition to all the human rights which are proclaimed under this noble declaration, they have certain duties which rest on them also, so that the people with whom they come in contact shall not be deprived of their own rights.

A great deal has been said about the United States being the land of freedom, but it is not so often remarked that to obtain the ends we all desire, there must also be co-operation and harmonious effort.

There are many people who go thru the world in a state of indignation, and with the feeling that their rights are constantly being trampled upon. Many of them do not stop to ask the question whether they are depriving someone else of the things that person has a right to enjoy.

The man who is constantly sore because he thinks he is being gouged out of a few cents or dollars because of unjust prices that he has to pay, may himself be depriving someone of his rights by failing to do a good day's work in return for his pay, by failing to give the people to whom he sells goods or services, a full equivalent for what they have paid.

The American government was built upon a bold assertion of the rights which fairly belong to the people, but it also took it for granted that the people would perform the duties that they owed to their neighbors and the community as a whole.

PERILS OF BUREAUCRACY

Much is said about the perils of "bureaucracy". Many of our thinkers feel that there is danger that the federal government may expand into a vast system of supervisory bureaus, the activities of which shall extend all over the country, and hamper the people in business and private affairs.

If the people depend mostly upon the states for action, the 48 commonwealths may have so many different ways of dealing with situations, and some of them may be so very negligent, that the interests of the people are not cared for. And yet the federal government is too difficult to influence so that there is doubt if its powers should be much extended beyond its present limit.

The lawmakers of congress are unable to keep up with the vast task laid upon them, and many subjects of great importance go without action. And yet if we should appoint permanent commissions to take charge of some of these problems, they may meddle with many things they do not understand and often do more harm than good.

What the country needs now is for the 48 state governments to brace up, and for the voters for all these states to send their best people to their state legislatures and the rest of their offices, so that all these states shall handle the affairs of their own citizens so efficiently that there will be little demand for additional interference from the federal government.

The citizens of some states feel also that there are too many commissions and bureaus in their own states, and that these interfere too much with business and local affairs. But a state organization can be more easily unpractical, the citizens can easily make complaint of its activities and secure changes in its methods.

DEMOCRATIC SPIRIT

One of the most common remarks made in regard to the Crown Prince and Princess of Sweden, on their recent visit to this country, was as to their democratic spirit. The same thing is often remarked about royal personages when they come over here from the old world. The people seem to think of them as aloof individuals set up very far on some high throne. But when they see them, they find they have a strong feeling of comradeship for the ordinary man and woman.

It is the same regarding high personages in this country. They do not enjoy an aloof position, and they value their contacts with the ordinary run of people, and feel that by such acquaintance they become better able to do whatever work they have to do.

While democratic spirit is thus common among the great, is not always seen among the "near great." When some people get up a little way on the ladder, they feel jealous of their position, and desire to associate with those still higher up, rather than with those supposed to be below them. Hence they adopt a snobbish attitude, and are very cold and distant if people make approaches to them.

Some cruel snubs are administered to those who are not supposed to have the right social relations. A woman who is not "in society" will be treated with scant courtesy in exclusive social circles in many places, and be made to feel she is out of her element.

Undemocratic manners are a sign not of grateness but merely of people who are trying to be great, but have not got there. The people who adopt lofty and superior maners are apt to be inferior to many of those whom they treat so discourteously. Those who win the public favor enjoy contacts with all kinds of people, and feel they can learn something from all.

BUSINESS JEALOUSY

It often seems as if some people were more anxious to prevent someone else from making a dollar, than they are to make two dollars for themselves.

If someone in town seems to be getting his head up a little above the crowd, some people feel inspired by a desire to pull him down. If people start hopeful enterprises, that are a benefit to their community, some people seem at heart to almost wish that those enterprises will prove unsuccessful. At least from the way they harp at them, they seem to have no sympathy with the effort.

If there are many people in a community who consciously or unconsciously share that view, it will prove a serious obstacle to the development of that place. We need a spirit of generous satisfaction when we see people getting ahead, and a disposition to use our influence to see that their enterprises obtain good public support.

MUCH DEPENDS ON YOUTH

The business and civic future of a city depends upon the youth that enlists in its service each year. When the schools close each summer, a new set of young people enlist to perform needed service, and the aims and methods which they contribute have much to do with the development that that town is going to obtain.

If these new recruits are taking hold of work because they are interested in it, and are desirous of doing it in the best way, that spirit is going to make the industries of the town so serviceable and efficient that they will grow. The young people who are coming on the stage in Cameron certainly look good to The Herald and it has the feeling that they are the real thing.

MOODY'S ORGAN SNEERS AT FARMERS

The Houston Post-Dispatch, owned by one of Houston's accidental millionaires and edited by Bill Hobby, has only sneered by Texas farmers and in its zeal to further the forlorn hope of Moody as a candidate for governor loses no opportunity to ridicule the sturdy tillers of the soil. In an account of the opening of the Ferguson campaign at Sulphur Springs May 22 the Moody organ referred to the great masses of voters who attended that remarkable political rally as "cultivator jockeys." When the polls close July 24 Moody and his plutocratic friends will find the "cultivator jockeys" as they are pleased to call the Texas farmers have cultivated a spirit of patriotism and loyalty and will roll up a tremendous majority for a second term for Governor Ferguson.

The Fayette County Record in a recent editorial discussed the Houston Post-Dispatch's sneering reference to the farmers as follows:

"The Houston Post-Dispatch, a Hobby-Sterling-Butte-Ku Klux Klan-Dan Moody newspaper, said in its account of the Ferguson opening speech that the audience which heard the Fergusons were mostly 'cultivator jockeys'. That's the name the pro-Moody-Ku Klux-city crowd has for the farmers who feed and clothe the world. Probably the Post-Dispatch thought that it would make Moody votes by calling the farmers 'cultivator jockeys', but we don't believe it made any Moody converts among the farmers or the ordinary plain citizens of any walk of life. It may have amused the high-brows of the big cities and added another nickname to the already long list that that crowd has for the tillers of the soil, but Dan Moody gained nothing by it, for that 'do-nothing crowd' was already for him. But one thing is certain:

"When the votes are counted on July 24, the Post-Dispatch, Dan Moody and the Ku Klux Klan will think that the majority of the voters in Texas are 'cultivator jockeys' for Governor Ferguson will, from present indications, receive a majority in the first primary. The high-brow crowd which the Houston Post-Dispatch seems to represent, thinks that there is only one thing for the farmers to do—work and produce those things which give the high-brows more luxury. But when the farmers attend a political speaking, or when they vote for men or women who are in sympathy with them, who stand for raising some of the burdens from the backs of the farmers and place them on the backs of the 'do-nothing crowd,' they cannot find a name bad enough for the farmers and must coin one that expresses their utter contempt for the men and women of the farm who are not willing to save and let the high-brows run the government.

"The Houston Post-Dispatch may call the farmers 'cultivator jockeys' and it may rave on over the Ku Klux Moses whom it is trying to elect governor, but on July 24th, the farmers will have their say, and will make the crowd of self styled 100 per centers look like 30 cents, by giving Texas' greatest governor the nomination for a second term on the first ballot."

HEARTS OF TEXAS PEOPLE WARM TO CAMPAIGN OF GOVERNOR FERGUSON; JIM WRITES OF SPEAKING TOUR

Leaving Corsicana I went to Wichita Falls and looked in on the meeting of the Executive committee. After routine matters were disposed of a resolution was presented by the committee on resolutions endorsing all democratic officers without mentioning anybody in particular. The resolution also favored the time honored democratic precedent of a second term and also said that as far as possible that none but democrats should be allowed to participate in the primary election and that the best test of a voter's democracy is his support of the regular nominee of the party. The Moody crowd led by Harry Graves of Georgetown immediately jumped to their feet and opposed the passage of this resolution. Graves said that the democratic committee should not make any such declaration and he then offered a resolution endorsing Dan Moody's administration. If there ever was a monumental display of ignorance and political insincerity it was displayed by the Moody bunch at this meeting. They opposed the endorsement of all state officials as well as the second term and absolutely went on record against the resolution declaring that a democrat should support the nominee when he was regularly nominated. If there ever was a bunch that put the brand of political mugwumps on themselves and on their candidate the Moody kluckers certainly done it in good shape. In other words they wanted to leave all the rest of the democratic office holders out and endorse nobody but Dan Moody. The committee very promptly by a vote of 19 to 6 voted down the proposition. The committee were in no sense seeking to dictate to anybody how they should vote and only declare for what has been democratic principles in this state for fifty years.

I went to Vernon for my Monday afternoon date. All our friends of two years ago were represented and I was introduced to an audience of about three thousand people by my old hard shell Baptist friend Rev. W. S. Bourland, Hon. Cecil Storey, member of the legislature from Wilbarger county, Hon. Dick Coffee, one of the prominent men of the county, and many others who are in position to know the political situation, and I like to have forgot my old friend Sid Vaughn, all say that the governor will carry Wilbarger county by a substantial lead. The audience was largely farmers and was cordial and responsive. It is quite evident that this campaign is going to be largely one of the farmers and laboring people supporting my wife and the silk stocking big business people backed by the oil companies opposed to the gasoline tax supporting Moody and Davidson. If anybody thinks I am trying to build up a wrong impression just look around in your neighborhood and you will find this to be true. Perhaps the only exception you will find will be somebody who is mad at me personally about the Ku Klux question.

On my way back to Wichita Falls I stopped at Electra and had supper with my old friend Dock Price and he told me after supper that he wanted me to go up town and meet a few of our friends. Imagine my surprise when we drove up to the theatre there were two thousand people standing on the outside and there was nothing for me to do but make a speech. After the speaking more than three hundred women shook hands with me and told me to tell Ma they were going to support her in this campaign. The high toned aristocratic society women are going to fail in this campaign to raise any successful opposition to the governor. I went back to Wichita Falls and the governor met me there on Tuesday morning. After getting a little rest she went down into the hotel lobby where she shook hands with some four or five hundred people. Hon. J. L. Staley, a native West Texas long horn, and a self made man, who has accumulated a little bit for a rainy day was very thoughtful for the comfort of the governor and Mrs. Staley looked out for the feminine end of the governor's entertainment. My old friend Bob Crawford who used to live in Bell County took me and some friends over to Burkburnett where I shook hands with many of the boys who work in the oil field and they all immediately recognized me as a brother roughneck. The governor and I spoke in the City Park at Wichita Falls at night and when she went on the platform there were more than five thousand people present. It soon began to rain and probably half of the audience left but not until they had given the governor's appearance a rousing reception. I made a speech to at least two thousand people who stood in the rain and urged me to go on. I appreciated this compliment, but am not egotistic enough to think that it was in any great deference to me, but the people wanted in some way to give expression to their determination to vote for the governor in Wichita county. Wichita, it will be remembered, is the home of J. A. Kemp who is backing Moody for governor and trying to raise the bond validation question to misrepresent the attitude of the governor on that issue. Mr. Kemp is representing the eastern bond attorneys and seems to be closely identified with the eastern bond brokers and that may account in some way at least for Mr. Kemp's activity. He has never heretofore been active in politics. He wants to validate the road bonds all over Texas without giving the people a chance to pass on the question. The Ferguson position on this question is that the people whose property is included in the bond districts and who have to pay the bonds and the interest on the same for forty years ought to have a chance to pass on the question. Mr. Kemp and Mr. Moody want to deprive the people of that right. The city of Wichita Falls appears to be against the governor. However, many railroad men and working people assured me that they were strong for Ma and I am sure the condition in Wichita Falls is very much improved. However, the vote which the governor will get in the country and the vote she will get at Burkburnett and Electra will make Wichita county very close in this campaign.

From Wichita Falls I went to Sweetwater and was met at the hotel by my old time pistol pocket friends Vard Woodruff, Mose Newman and E. C. Brand. There were people from seven or eight adjoining counties and I was introduced to an audience on the court house lawn of at least four thousand people by my old time friend Judge C. P. Woodruff. I shook hands with over four hundred women who again sent messages of good cheer to the governor. The vote between the governor and Felix Robertson was very close two years ago. As the klan is not active in Nolan county our friends are sure that the governor will carry Nolan county by at least four hundred majority.

From Sweetwater I went to Midland where I spoke on Thursday in the afternoon. Outside of the Sulphur Springs meeting this meeting represented more counties than any date I have filled. There were at least four thousand people who came from as far north as Lamesa in Dawson county and as far south as San Angelo and from Scurry and Mitchell counties and from Crane and Ector counties. There was also a good delegation from Fort Stockton and Alpine. The crowd was largely ranchmen, but a great many farmers were present. When I told the crowd that Dan Moody was a cull and a cut back they went wild. I told them that Dan was a political doggy that had escaped from a political herd in dirty territory and was now trying to butt into the herd of thoroughbreds. I told them that on the 24th of July the people would dip him for political scab, bore him for the hollow horn, split his tail and put the salt in and that for ever more the people of Texas would never be bothered with another political scrub. You can imagine how loud they yelled at the utterance of this language which they understood. The governor will carry Midland county strong and I believe will carry every county from Midland to the Mexico line on the T. & P. railroad.

From Midland I came to Abilene and it rained all day Friday, and it looked like we were not going to have any crowd. However, the sun cleared off about 6 o'clock and by 8 o'clock there were six thousand people gathered on the federal lawn and I was introduced by my old friend Jim Cunningham. It will be remembered that Abilene is noted for Evolution Baptists and crazy Ku Klux. It will be remembered that it was here on April 28 that Hiram Evans, the Grand Wizard, declared for Dan Moody for governor. Dan also got his wife in Abilene and of course the city of Abilene is going to vote against the governor. However, the governor has many strong friends in Abilene and they are having the nerve to speak out and with the aid of the working people and the small business man in Abilene and the farmers of Taylor county, Dan Moody will not get over five hundred majority in Taylor county. The governor will carry every county adjoining Taylor county.

From Abilene I started on my way to Cisco, but when I got to Baird in Callahan county my old friends Colonel Gilliland, Dr. Hamlet, Judge Russell, Mr. Foy and many others, insisted that I stop off between trains and meet my friends. I went up town with the committee and lo and behold there were two thousand people as loyal and true to the Ferguson cause as any place in Texas. Nobody denies the fact that the governor will carry Callahan county over all opponents in the first primary by a substantial majority. I arrived at Cisco at 2 o'clock on Saturday and was met by a large committee of more than fifty people headed by Mayor Williamson and they took me to the hotel where I found a telegram awaiting me from Hon. R. Q. Lee, the retiring chairman of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, expressing his regret that he was detained on business and could not be at the meeting to publicly announce his support of the governor. R. Q. Lee enjoys the confidence of West Texas perhaps in as great a degree as any other man who ever lived in that section. Nobody will be surprised if he is heard from again. He is one of the men that is active in the advertisement and development of Texas. At the meeting Senator H. P. Brelsford presided and upon his request more than twenty-five precinct chairmen of Eastland county sat on the platform. Senator Brelsford in a few chosen words expressed appreciation for the co-operation which West Texas had received from the Ferguson administration and stated that it was the duty of the people of West Texas to give the Ferguson administration their cordial and active support. Eastland county will give the governor at least a majority of one thousand and I think more. It will be a reflection on the men who are in charge of the Ferguson campaign to think it would be less.

WHAT MOODY IS OPPOSING

Dan Moody, candidate for governor has made this statement: "I am opposed to Fergusonism and all that Fergusonism stands for." He never has qualified or modified that statement and on the theory that a candidate so impregnated with honesty means what he says it is pertinent to give a statement of the Fergusonism that Moody opposes. Here are some of the items against which his opposition is launched.

The semi-monthly pay day.

Free textbooks for Texas school children.

The land tenant law which curbs greedy landlords.

Taking the insane and decrepit unfortunates out of filthy jails and placing them in comfortable quarters.

Putting the penitentiary system upon a cash basis with inherited debts paid.

Tearing masks and hoods from the Ku Klux Klan and stopping river bottom tar and feather parties.

The search and seizure law which protects the home against marauding hi-jackers posing as officers of the law.

Adequate appropriations for schools, both rural schools and colleges of higher education.

Cessation of lynchings in Texas.

A treasury overflowing with cash.

Law enforcement for rich and poor alike.

Showing that mercy which preachers plead for on Sunday and denounce every week day.

Dan Moody is unqualifiedly against these things and says so because he says he is opposed to Fergusonism and everything that Fergusonism stands for.—Adv.

JOE BAILEY DECLARES GOVERNOR IS RIGHT ON PLAN TO MAKE ROAD BONDS OF STATE VALID

Former United States Senator Joseph Weldon Bailey Saturday gave out the following statement:

"It is now manifest that Mr. Moody and his friends have determined to make the validation of our road district bonds a political issue. What is their purpose, and what will be the result? Their purpose is, of course, to increase the vote to be cast for Mr. Moody in the July primary, and the result must be, whether they intend it or not, that Texas will suffer, more or less, in her reputation. That plan of campaign will not serve its purpose, for no candidate ever profits by introducing a false issue, if the people have time to analyze and understand it before the election; but while it will not help Mr. Moody it will hurt the state, for our leading men can not daily charge that the governor of Texas is in favor of repudiating our honest debts without reducing us in the estimation of our fellow-citizens in other states.

"If governor Ferguson were in favor of repudiating an honest public debt I would regard it as the duty of every upright man to assail her position; but she is not in favor of repudiating any part of our public debt. Within the last three weeks she has twice said, in official communications, that these invalid bonds should be validated, and has announced that she will call a special session of the legislature to validate them. But, says The Dallas News, what Ex-governor Ferguson said in his speech at Wichita Falls has made it plain that gov. Ferguson will 'veto any validating act the legislature might enact,' and that assertion was made editorially in Monday's paper, notwithstanding the fact that on the preceding Saturday ex-governor Ferguson had unequivocally declared in a speech at Cisco, that both he and his wife are in favor of validating these bonds.

"The Dallas News did not report what the ex-governor had said about validating these bonds in his Cisco speech; but did print it in the form of a 'statement' Tuesday morning, after having first submitted it to Mr. Moody, and then in Wednesday's paper sought, editorially to discredit it. Why pursue such a course? Would the News have the world to understand that the governor of Texas who will vote for her renomination are repudiationists? It would seem to me that those who are so deeply interested in the State's good name would gladly accept everybody's assurance that they are in favor of paying this debt. But the editorial of the Dallas News Wednesday was not the only effort made that day to inject this question into our politics. You printed a statement from Mr. Kemp in which he characterizes as 'bolshevistic' ex-governor Ferguson's contention that the question of validation must be submitted to the people.

"Mr. Kemp has spoken in his anger, and can not mean what he has said. Remembering that our constitution does not permit these road districts to issue bonds without a vote of the people, no man clothed in his right mind can think that it is dishonest or even improper to refer the validation of bonds illegally issued to a vote of the same people. Mr. Kemp is a Texan and has a right to talk about Texas affairs, even though what he says about them may mislead rather than enlighten us. But what good can The Dallas News expect to accomplish by printing a statement from the New York Herald-Tribune that 'a great number, if not all, of the big bond houses of New York have tacitly agreed to boycott all Texas bonds, even when not directly affected by the Archer county case? Does The News think that such a reflection on this state is calculated to compose the minds of self-respecting Texans, and make us more anxious to validate the bonds held by those who thus insult us?

Considering the bitterness which has been engendered by this question, the thoughtful citizens of Texas will be surprised when he thinks it out, and finds how little Mrs. Ferguson and Mr. Moody differ about it. They agree that these road bonds should be validated; and that is the vital matter, everything else being a mere matter of detail. They agree, also, on the most important of the details, which is that a special session of the Legislature shall be called to pass a validating act. They differ only in that respect, as to the time when a special session of the legislature shall be held. Mrs. Ferguson insists that it shall not be held until after the primary elections, while Mr. Moody insists that it shall be held immediately. Obviously, the legislature should not be required to deal with these bonds while a bitter political contest is in progress.

"Mrs. Ferguson and Mr. Moody may disagree on another question. Mrs. Ferguson insists that the legislative act shall submit the question of validating these bonds to a vote of the people. I have not seen any specific expression from Mr. Moody on that particular point, but I think it must be inferred, from what he has said, that he does not favor submitting that question to a vote of the people. Is it people, and fears that if permitted to possible that Mr. Moody distrusts the vote they will vote against validating these bonds? If so, he has less confidence in the integrity of our people than I have. I think they are just as honest as their would-be leaders, and I am sure they are just as much in favor of paying their honest debts as our candidates for Governor.

"But even if as a matter of political policy, this question ought not to be submitted to a vote of the people, it must, as a matter of constitutional law, be submitted to them. Certainly no road district can issue bonds without a vote of the people, and if valid bonds can not be issued, in the first instance, without a vote of the people, void bonds can not be validated without the vote of the people. The assertion that those bonds have already been authorized by one election is superficial; because the elections under which that was done were all void, according to the decision of the Supreme Court in the Archer County case, and a void election is precisely the same as no election. I do not believe that any reputable lawyer will say, after a careful examination of the subject, that our legislature can validate these bonds without a vote of the people.

"But suppose that one-half of the lawyers in Texas, including one-half of the best, were to advise us that our legislature can validate these bonds without submitting that question to a vote of the people, we would still be unwise to act on their advice; for we would be foolish to incur any risk, however slight, of making a mistake in this matter. If we submit this question to a vote of the people, and that is not necessary, the bonds will nevertheless be valid and no harm will be done; but if we refuse to submit this question to a vote of the people, and that is necessary, the bonds will be as invalid as they are today, and infinite harm will be done. As a sensible people, we should choose the safer way, even though it may be a little the longer way."

BACK HURT BAD

Lady Had Severe Pains in Back and Got Very Weak.

"I think very highly of Cardui for I have had great benefit from its use," says Mrs. Cora Nicholson, of Ware Shoals, S. C.

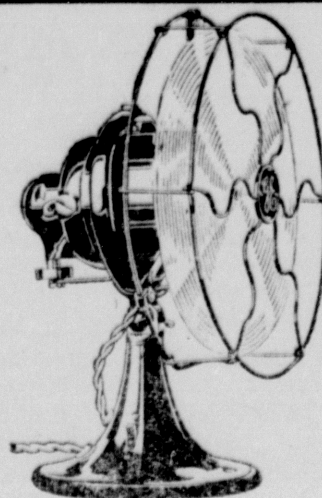

"I was in bed quite a while. It looked like my strength would not come back, and I suffered with severe pains in my back whenever I would try to get up. Sometimes I would scream out, my back hurt me so bad.

"My husband got me some Cardui and I took two bottles. Very shortly after I began to take it I could notice I felt better. I began to get stronger. My appetite was improving and I could see that I was much better.

"After I had finished the second bottle I was able to be up and do all my own housework, so of course I think Cardui is fine. It is the best tonic for women that I know anything about, and I am glad to recommend it. Not long ago I told a lady friend of mine about it, and it did her as much good as it has done for me."

GOVERNMENT TELLS HOW TO KILL COTTON FLEA

DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE
ADVISES USE OF SULPHUR
IN COMBATING PESTS

Washington, D. C., June 28.—Many cotton growers are complaining of heavy damage this season by the cotton hopper or cotton flea, the infestation being heaviest in Texas and Georgia, where conditions have favored the early and luxuriant growth of certain wild plants on which the insect feeds and multiplies before cotton plants are available.

Dusting cotton with sulphur is the best means of control known, says, the United States department of agriculture. Two grades—superfine sulphur and flowers of sulphur—have been used with equally good results. At present superfine sulphur is recommended for hopper control because of its lower cost and equal effectiveness. It can be distributed with the ordinary dusting machinery used for weevil control.

When hopper damage is sufficient to warrant control measures, three or more applications of superfine sulphur should be made at intervals of about five days, and continued until the damage is no longer noticeable. Best results will be obtained if the sulphur is applied when the air is calm and dew is present on the plants, as in the early morning or late afternoon. From 8 to 10 pounds per acre should be applied each time.

The insect is in many respects a difficult one with which to deal. Extensive experiments began by the bureau of entomology in 1923 to determine the most effective methods of control have not yet been completed. Therefore the sulphur dusting method is as yet the best that can be suggested.

Although the cotton hopper in recent years has been most injurious in the coast counties of Texas, it is known to have done more or less damage in all of the states from Texas to Georgia and South Carolina. It ranges far beyond the limits of the Cotton Belt and is probably capable of injuring cotton wherever it is grown. Cotton injury is more or less periodical and seems to be directly associated with the abundance of wild host plants.

The insects, both adults and nymphs, feed principally in the buds and growing tips of the branches of the plant, injuring the squares while they are very small. As a result the tiny squares die, turn a brown or blackish color, and drop from the plant, leaving a distinct scar. These blasted squares though often very small are easily visible to the naked eye, and anyone who will take pains to inspect the cotton when they are being developed should be able to detect the presence of the hopper in time to use control measures.

The hopper is very small but easily seen. It usually is greenish in color, although sometimes rather yellowish or grayish. When present in large numbers the adults appear like small white gnats darting among the plants whenever they are disturbed. Before developing wings, the hoppers are tiny green bugs, reminding one somewhat of plant lice. They remain on the plant and may often be discovered with their beaks inserted in small squares from which they extract the sap.

The cotton hopper passes the winter in the egg stage, principally in the stems of cotton plants. The eggs hatch in the early spring and the insects begin feeding and breeding on certain common weeds, especially various kinds of horsemint, croton and evening primrose. They also begin to feed and breed in the cotton early in the spring, but it is probable that the greatest damage occurs where certain early weed plants furnish a breeding ground in which the hoppers multiply in large numbers. When these weed plants begin to die out the hoppers migrate to cotton.

"GREAT-GRAND-DAD"

"Great-grandad, when the land was young,
Barred his door with a wagon tongue.
For the times were rough and the heathen mocked,
He said his prayers with his shotgun cocked,
Oh! He was a citizen tough and grim,
Danger was duck soup to him.

Great-grandson, he falls asleep,
And fears no harm in the darkness deep;
For great-grandad, he fought and won
And tamed the land for his great-grandson.

Great-grandad was a busy man,
He cooked his grub in a frying pan.
Picked his teeth with his hunting knife
And wore the same suit all his life.
He ate corn pone and bacon fat,
And great-grandson would stare at that.

Great-grandad was gaunt with toil,
Grimed and seamed with sun and soil,
Great-grandson is fat and clean,
And rides to his work in a limousine.

Twenty-one children came to bless,
Great-grandad's home in the wilderness,
Sneer at that statement if you can,
But great-grandad was a busy man.

Twenty-one children and they grew
Stout and tall on the bacon too;
Stout and tall on the bacon too;
They slept on the floor with the dogs and cats,
And shopped in the woods for their coonskin hats.

Twenty-one boys and not one bad,
They never got fresh with great-grandad,
For he tanned their hides with a hickory gad.

He raised them rough, but he raised them well.
When their feet took hold on the ways of hell
He filled them full of the fear of God,
He flailed their pants with his old ram rod.

And they grew strong of heart and hand,
The firm foundations of our land,
Twenty-one boys, and great-grandson,
He has a terrible time with one.

WHAT MY NEIGHBOR SAYS

Is Of Interest To Cameron Folks
When one has had the misfortune to suffer from backache, headaches, dizziness, urinary disorders and other kidney ills—and has found relief from all this sickness and suffering, that person's advice is of untold value to friends and neighbors. The following case is only one of the many thousands but it is that of a Cameron resident. Who would ask for a better example?

Mrs. O. C. Wilson, 824 Washington St., says: "My back ached and at times it was so lame I felt as though I had been beaten. Bending or stooping sent sharp, shooting pains through the small of my back and it seemed impossible for me to straighten. Spells of dizziness often came over me and my kidneys acted too often. Nights found me worn out and irritable and often my feet were swollen. After using Doan's Pills from the New Cameron Drug Co., my kidney trouble was ended."

NOTICE TO CITY WATER USERS

On account of water conditions many people are compelled to use city water for washing and are inconvenienced because of its hardness.

To overcome this add one teaspoonful of Rub-No-More Washing Powder (the original 5c water softener) to each gallon of city water. IT SAVES SOAP.

Besides its 15 household usages it is the only cleanser that will clean sinks and tubs and dissolve upon rinsing. No sand left to clog drain pipes.

NEW BRIDGE IS PRAISED BY TEX. HIGHWAY PAPER

FUTURE PLANS FOR UPKEEP OF BRIDGE TOLD IN HIGHWAY
BULLETIN

The Texas Highway Bulletin, official publication for the Texas Highway Department has the following to say, with suitable photos, of the new bridge across Little River:

Completed June 6, a new steel and concrete bridge with timber approaches across the Little River about a mile and a half south of Cameron will serve the traffic of Highways No. 36 and 44. This new structure is one-fourth mile below the old McCowan Bridge.

The span across the main channel is entirely of steel, with a length of 192 feet and a concrete slab roadway of 18 feet. The approaches are of creosoted timber, 408 feet long on the south side, and 980' on the north. The north approach is built below extreme high water mark. To build it above, in this 300 foot valley would require an expenditure of about $300,000. It is assumed that after the wood approaches have served their period of use, possibly twenty years from now, funds will be available to replace them with new ones of steel and concrete.

To serve traffic for the next twenty years, it was considered sufficient to build the grade line of the north approach below extreme high water mark, and to provide several low water bridges, which would be above ordinary flood waters. These bridges would be substantial enough to remain practically undamaged with 20 feet of flood waters passing over them. The piling are driven to a penetration of 15 to 20 feet, and the decking is anchored with straps and rods to prevent same from floating away during floods.

The steel span across the main channel and the south approach are built entirely above extreme high water mark.

The road across the valley is paved with gravel, and has heavy rip rap material on the downstream side for protection against ordinary floods. The portions that heavy floods might remove can be replaced with little expense.

The construction of the Little River Bridge, and the roadway in connection, involved an expenditure of approximately $140,000. The contract was handled by Thomas & Ratliff, contractors of Rogers, Texas. Mr. A. F. Mitchell, county engineer, supervised all financed by County funds and State engineering work. The project was financed by county funds and state aid in equal amounts.

People of Cameron and its vicinity regard with pride this new monument to industry and progress. Hundreds gathered for the ceremonies that marked its opening.

In the shady grove near the south approach, a park and dancing pavilion have superseded the rocks and brush. Every evening the strains of music lure the passing motorists to the cool and inviting nook and shadows. No doubt this park will become a popular summer resort.

Many large and important bridges have been built on the State Highway System during the past six years, some of the important ones being: Brazos River Bridge at Richmond, which cost approximately $300,000.00; the Neches River Bridge at Beaumont approximately 3,200 feet long, costing approximately $360,000.00; the Corpus Christi Causeway, a creosoted timber structure approximately two and one-fourth mile in length, costing approximately $300,000.00.

The annual expenditure of the Department for bridges and culverts has been on an average of approximately four and one-half million dollars for the past five years.

A rough estimate was a few days ago of the number of existing steel bridges on the State Highway System, which were built before the creation of the department, which are nearing the end of their period of usefulness. It was found that there were approximately 2,000 of such structures of more than 100 feet in length which should be replaced during the next few years. Probably a great many of them will be destroyed by flood or heavy traffic before the end of this time. Should an average of $10,000.00 each be required to build these bridges there would be required the sum of $20,000,000.00 to say nothing of the great expenditure required for the building of minor structures and culverts.

A great deal of money is spent in repair and maintenance work for old highway bridges on account of worn out timber floors or by flood damage.

Another important work of the Department has been that of railroad grade crossing elimination. Most of the grade crossing eliminations have been accomplished by the relocation of the highway.

Mr. and Mrs. Lee McLane and Mrs. Lloyd Mitchell motored to Temple Friday to visit Mrs. Floy Shaw who is convalescing in the Temple Sanitarium.

LADIES! DARKEN YOUR GRAY HAIR

Use Grandma's Sage Tea and Sulphur Recipe and Nobody will Know.

The use of Sage and Sulphur for restoring faded, gray hair to its natural color dates back to grandmother's time. She used it to keep her hair beautifully dark, glossy and attractive. Whenever her hair took on that dull, faded or streaked appearance, this simple mixture was applied with wonderful effect.

But brewing at home is messy and out-of-date. Nowadays, by asking at any drug store for a bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," you will get this famous old preparation, improved by the addition of other ingredients, which can be depended upon to restore natural color and beauty to the hair.

A well-known downtown druggist says it darkens the hair so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied. You simply dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears, and after another application or two, it becomes beautifully dark and glossy.

Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound is a delightful toilet requisite for those who desire a more youthful appearance. It is not intended for the cure, mitigation or prevention of disease.

WILD BRAHMA STEERS TO BE USED IN RODEO HAVE ARRIVED

Belton, June 26.—Hon. T. S. Henderson of Cameron and Hon. W. W. Hair of Temple will be the principal speakers at the big celebration and home coming of World War, Spanish-American War and Confederate veterans which will be held here on July 5.

The program committee feels that it has arranged the best program that will ever have been given here on a similar occasion. Not only has the program committee been at work for the big celebration but every member of every committee named by President Hammer for the celebration is hard at work to make the day a success in every way.

Q. A. Ellis, chairman of the rodeo committee has received 12 wild Brahma steers direct from Ft. Worth. These steers originally came from south Texas and are said to be wilder and more ferocious than those brought to Belton for the rodeo last year. Entrants for the rodeo may be made with A. E. Taylor at the city hall any time between now and July 5. It is stated that arrangements have been made to give away a thousand dollars in prizes to successful contestants in the rodeo contests.

The business men of Belton who made a two-day tour advertising the celebration, state that in every town visited the people were very responsive and indicated that they would have large delegations here for the celebration. A crowd of 25,000 people is expected.
